Night Blooming Plants at Home Of Mrs. Earl Robb

BLOOMERS: Mrs. Earl Robb has lots of plants and night before last, between Heart of the City and Chance of a Lifetime, I dropped in at her place to see an unusual blooming cactus.

I had been out there a little over a year ago to see a cactus that bloomed at midnight, with its gynoecium looking like the manger scene.

But Thursday night another cactus was in bloom—earlier in the evening. From the ugly, prickly cactus came four beautiful white flowers, all at one time. The flowers were as big as sunflowers, with white petals and yellow gynoecium and the inside as beautiful and delicate and fantastic as you ever saw.

Mrs. Robb had possessed this plant for nearly two years and was getting a bit discouraged about seeing it in bloom. But a few nights ago a single flower burst forth and it was beautiful. Next morning it was gone. Then came the four Thursday night.

Mrs. Robb got both of the plants mentioned above from Mrs. Georgia Dempsey. Mrs. Dempsey gave them to her when she went on a visit nearly two years ago; so that prompted me to call on Mrs. Dempsey yesterday.

There I learned that when she left on the visit she gave nearly all of a huge collection away and since returning has started a collection of flowers but not on such a large scale as she had done previously.

She told me that the cactus that bloomed Thursday night—when she owned it—had 12 blooms one year and 11 another year. That must have been a sight to behold.

But there was something at the Dempsey home you ought to see. You should take a peek at Big Boy, the goldfish. The fish hasn't a real name but I'm naming him Big Boy.

This goldfish, in a fish pond in the backyard, appears to be 15 or 16 inches long as it swims around, and if it were a bass, it would be big enough to give you a tussle.

Big Boy swims around with a lot of other goldfish measuring in length from about three inches up to eight or ten.

Big Boy was given to Mrs. Dempsey's son, John, about three years ago by a man who had trouble with his own fish pond and had to get the fish out. Big Boy was almost as big as he is now—but has grown some, Mrs. Dempsey stated. He's the biggest goldfish I ever saw.

"This spring the man who brought him to John came to see if he was still living," Mrs. Dempsey told me. "He seemed to be a bit surprised when he found that he was."

She said that she feeds the fish every morning, and that every morning when she opens the door the fish rush over to the side of the pool like a bunch of hogs, waiting for their repast.

Area Students to Receive Degrees

Beautiful Girls Parade at Saline County Fair

MISS SALINE COUNTY OF 1955 AND MEMBERS OF THE COURT OF BEAUTY—Miss Janice Harrawood, seated, was crowned queen of the Saline County Beauty Pageant Friday evening. To her left, standing, is Miss Norma Simpson, winner of second place, and at right, Miss Wanda Smith, winner of the third place trophy. Others participating in the annual beauty show, sponsored by the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, are left to right, Dorris Morris, Beth Dean, Bonita Matthews, Nettie Ann Gholson, Janice Stiff, Lee Anna Cummins, Beverly Parsons, Jean Abney, Susie Kihlmitre, Wanda Disney, Mary Helen Burroughs, Dorothy Hanning, Carol Lightfoot, Joan Gail Burroughs and Claudetta Justice. In lower photo, close up of the winners of first, second and third places. Queen Janice is in the center, at left is Norma Simpson and Wanda Smith at right.

Beauty Pageant, Automobile Show Close County Fair

A Carrier Mills miss, young and pretty, topped the top honors in the annual Saline County Beauty pageant that wound up the 49th Saline County Agricultural Fair last night.

Miss Saline County of 1955 is Janice Harrawood, youngest queen to reign in the seven years old Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce has sponsored the pageant at the fair. Sixteen years old, she will be a junior at Carrier Mills high school next month.

She is the daughter of Mrs. R. J. McNew and the late Thomas E. Harrawood. She was sponsored by the Dari-Bar of Carrier Mills, operated by her stepfather and her mother.

Norma Simpson Second

Second place went to Miss Norma Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Simpson of Harrisburg, sponsored by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. Both girls were graduated from Harrisburg Township high school in June.

Eighteen girls appeared in the pageant, first being introduced to the crowd by John R. Small, master of ceremonies, as they passed by the grandstand in open convertibles. Then they appeared individually in formal attire, against a spotlighted background of blue and silver.

The automobile show that followed showed the finest in Oldsmobiles and Cadillacs from Humm Motor Co., Pontiacs from Pool Pontiac Co., Fords from Wilson-Taylor, and Buicks from Tom Endicott.

Crowned by 1954 Queen

Then the contestants returned in bathing suits and paraded their beauty and charm before the three judges and the large gathering present.

The reports of the judges then were compiled and all 18 girls brought back to the stage for the third time. Miss Smith was announced as the third place winner. Miss Simpson was winner of second place and Miss Harrawood as Miss Saline County of 1955.

Immediately following the announcement she was crowned by Miss Eugenia Gollmer, Miss Saline County of 1954.

The first three winners received large trophies and the other 15 girls small ones.

Judges were Miss Pat Bruce of Fairfield, who was Miss Illinois of 1954, and two out-of-town Junior Chamber of Commerce officials. They were Bill Bracy, a national director, and Paul Dickerson, state vice president.

Oran Music During Pageant

The point system was used and the judges themselves did not know the winner until the totals were tabulated. The girls were judged on poise, personality, physique, features and proportion. A pretty face or a pretty form was not enough.

Small, president of the local Jaycees organization, was assisted in his duties by Miss Rita Davenport. Playing organ music during the entire pageant was Mrs. Floyd Netherly of Palestine, Ill.

Besides the winners, the girls appearing and their sponsors were: Susie Kihlmitre, Skaggs Pharmacy; Lee Anna Cummins, Fashion Palace; Jean Abney, Polk's Shoes; Wanda Disney, Harley's department store; Bonita Matthews, Mac's Car and Home Supply; Nettie Ann Gholson, John Stelle Associates; Janice Stiff, Myrons; Claudetta Justice, Southeastern Employees' association; Mary Helen Burroughs, Wilson-Taylor Ford Sales; Carol Lightfoot, Harrisburg Dairy Products; Dorris Morris, Athletic House; Joan Gail Burroughs, Pankey's bakery; Beth Dean, Sullivan Loan Co.; Beverly Parsons, Uzzle Appliance Co.; Dorothy Hanning, Delta Theta Tau.

Auto and Truck Collide on Rt. 45

A car and a truck collided on Middle Fork bridge on Route 45 northeast of Harrisburg last night, but there were no injuries.

Names were not available but it was learned that a car and a Halliburton truck crashed when the car passed the truck, then cut in quickly because there was another auto ahead of the truck.

All the vehicles were travelling north.

OIL REPORT: Three Oil Tests Completed; Four Abandoned

Taken from the Robertson
Tri-State Oil Report

Completions in Saline county for the period ending Aug. 3 showed three wells and four abandonments.

P. M. Barton's Kendall Bramlett et al No. 2, NE NE NE, 19-48-7e (Eldorado), made an oil well in the Palestine in 1955-50 with initial production 888 barrels per day on flow.

Inland and McBride's Koker Communitized No. 1, 319 feet north and 330 feet east of SW NE, 11-38-7e, made an oil well in the Waltersburg with initial production 112 barrels per day on pump.

H. V. Spire's J. Brill Communitized No. 1, SW SE NE, 2-8-7e, made an oil well in the Waltersburg with initial production 22 barrels per day on pump.

Abandoned were: Walter Duncan's Sahara Bramlett No. 1, 315 feet north and 330 feet east of SW NE SE, 26-8-6e (Raleigh); Sam G. Walker's Verlie O. James, SEC SW NE, 34-8-6e; and his James No. 2, 290 feet south and 300 feet west of NE SW NE, 34-8-6e, abandoned after a gas blowout at 500 feet; and Virgil J. Heigen's Murphy No. 1, NE SW SE, 23-10-5e (Stonefort).

Other activity:

Roy Pledger's J. B. McFarland No. 1, NW NE NW, 6-10-7e (Mountain), was drilling at 2318.

Sunray Mid-Continent's J. M. Wise No. 1, SE NE SW, 11-10-6e (Independence), was drilling at 1614.

Wayne Misener's Marshall Saylor No. 1, SW SE SE, 3-10-6e, was drilling at 1391.

Misener's Talbot Syers No. 1, SEC SW SE, 3-10-6e, was cleaning out and testing the Dogena. It swabbed one and a half barrels of oil naturally and there was no information after fracture.

John Stelle Associates' Chicago-Harrisburg Coal Co. No. 1, SW NE NW, 10-9-6e (Harrisburg), set 10 inch pipe to 66 feet with cable tools and moved the rig off to await rotary tools.

Stelle's Marion Fox No. 1, SEC SE NW, 10-9-7e (Cottage), was drilling at 2307.

Van Dresser's McDonald's No. 1, SEC SE NW, 19-8-7e, was cleaning out and testing the Palestine.

Breuer-Robison's Roberson Heirs community unit No. 2, 430 feet north and 360 feet east of SW SE SE, 16-8-7e, was preparing for hydraulic fracture.

The body lies in state at the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Voters to Elect State's Att'y At Polls Tuesday

Candidates are
John W. Biggers,
Robert V. Wilson

Saline county voters will go to the polls Tuesday to elect an important county officer—a state's attorney.

Candidates are John W. Biggers, Harrisburg Republican, and Robert V. Wilson, Eldorado Democrat. One will be elected Tuesday at a special election called to fill a vacancy in the office of state's attorney.

The vacancy was created when State's Attorney Glen O. Jones, elected state senator at the November election, resigned Jan. 1 to fill his new legislative post.

At that time the Saline County Board of Supervisors appointed K. C. Ronalds the state's attorney. Petitions calling for an election were filed and the election was set for August 9. Since Biggers and Wilson were the only candidates who filed for the office, the primary was waived as is provided by law.

During the time that Ronalds has served as state's attorney this year, Atty. Biggers has been the assistant state's attorney. Wilson, who has law offices in Eldorado, is the Eldorado city attorney.

Their names will be the only ones on the ballot to be voted Tuesday and party workers have been busy organizing to try to bring out a large vote.

There will be voting at all 34 of the precincts in the county. Here are the Harrisburg township precinct polling places:

Precinct 1—Harrisburg city hall.
Precinct 2—Humm Motor Co.
Precinct 3—Cummins building.
Precinct 4—Franks building, Logan and Jackson.

Precinct 5—County garage building in Dorrisville.

Precinct 6—Egyptian Custom Trim shop.

Precinct 7—Mugge-Hall building at old Peabody site.

Precinct 8—Muddy school.

Precinct 9—Gaskins City town hall.

Precinct 10—Leo Richmond's garage.

Precinct 11—Soward Motorcycle shop.

Precinct 12—North Williford school.

Polls will open at 6 a. m., close at 5 p. m.

A. F. Boaz, 64, Retired Mail Carrier, Dies at McLeansboro

A. F. Boaz, 64, a retired mail carrier on the Star Route between McLeansboro and Eldorado, died Friday evening at 6:30 at his home, 610 South Locust street in McLeansboro.

He was a former resident of Eldorado but had been reared in the Glendale community in Pope county.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel; a daughter, Mrs. Ned Sutton, Evansville, Ind., and three sons: Forrest and Myrl, both of Los Angeles, Calif., and Lt. Cmdr. Harold Boaz of Washington, D. C. Commander Boaz was in charge of securing reservations for President Eisenhower recently when he attended the Geneva conference. Also surviving are a brother, Coy Boaz of Glendale, and a sister, Mrs. Fred Anderson of Eddyville.

The body lies in state at the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Church Bells Ring as Hiroshima Observes 10th Anniversary of A-Blast

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Sirens and church bells broke the stillness of Hiroshima at 8:15 a. m. today, ten years to the minute since the city vanished in one blinding, terrible explosion.

The world's first city to feel the horrifying power of the atomic bomb observed the anniversary today with prayers and an appeal by Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama to scientists to make atomic power work for the welfare of mankind.

Ten thousand Japanese, joined by a sprinkling of foreigners from both sides of the Iron Curtain, pleaded earnestly for "no more Hiroshimas" at annual memorial rites held by the city in front of the white memorial cenotaph at the blast center.

Ten years have already passed since that tragic atom bomb was dropped on this land. Hatoyama told the group. "We fixed as Japan's national objective the construction of a cultural nation

Death Claims Two Actresses In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The deaths of bombastic Carmen Miranda and beautiful Suzan Ball within 12 hours fulfilled today the fearful show business superstition that tragedy always strikes in threes.

Friday's swift double deaths, Miss Miranda's by a heart attack and Miss Ball's from lung cancer, made a total of three along with Sunday's death of actor Robert Francis in a plane crash.

Miss Miranda, 41, Portugal-born Brazilian bombshell famed for her sizzling Latin American dancing and singing rhythms and elaborate costumes, died early Friday in her Beverly Hills mansion a few hours after filming a television show with comedian Jimmy Durante. The suddenness of her death staggered Hollywood.

Miss Ball, 21, who lost a leg to cancer and had been fighting death for 13 months, succumbed to the dread disease in a private home Friday afternoon only a week after leaving the nearby City of Hope Hospital. Prior to her death, doctors described her chances of winning her struggle to live as "slim." Her lingering illness and valiant fight against the disease had all of Hollywood bating for her.

Francis, 25, who achieved stardom for his role as Ensign Willie Keith in the film version of "The Caine Mutiny," was killed with two other persons in the flaming crash of a light private plane at nearby Burbank.

Allen told police he and his wife, an attractive brunette who is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 110 pounds, had planned to dine out Thursday night. He said they had engaged a baby sitter for their sons, Bobby, 8, and Bill, 11.

Thieves Steal 60 Gallons of Gasoline

Thieves stole 60 gallons of gasoline from the Weaver service station on East Poplar street Wednesday night, Chief of Police Ross Lane reported today.

They entered the station, turned on the pump switch and pumped the 60 gallons of gasoline.

The H and H Market on South Granger street was burglarized Thursday night. The rear door was entered and a meat knife and banana knife were taken.

Fear Mother of Two Will Not Be Found Alive

Auto Found With Blood in Back Seat,
Clothing in Trunk

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A police search was made today of the Missouri river bottoms near Sibley, 18 miles north-east of here, for any clue to the missing wife of a wealthy Kansas City automobile dealer.

Detectives and sheriff's deputies went to the Sibley site after Lee Gee, who lives near the river, reported he saw a car answering the description of one driven Thursday by Mrs. Wilma Allen, an attractive 34-year-old brunette, when she disappeared.

Gee told officers he saw a man and a woman in the blue and white convertible, which went past his home and near a river levee.

Tire tread marks and footprints were found near the river bank. Detectives said the tire tread of Mrs. Allen's blood-stained automobile will be compared with the tracks on the river bank.

Gee said he saw the car at 2 p. m. Thursday. Mrs. Allen was last seen about 12:45 p. m. that day when she left a store in a fashionable South Side shopping district.

Earlier, her distraught husband, William R. Allen Jr., told detectives he does not believe his wife is a victim of a kidnap plot for ransom "but if I could get her back alive I hope that is what it is."

Allen intimated to friends he had nearly lost hope that his wife would be found alive.

More than 50 detectives and patrolmen were assigned in the search for Mrs. Wilma Allen, an attractive brunette, whose blood-spattered clothing and automobile were the only clues to her fate.

A squad of detectives worked around-the-clock at the Allen home on the chance that her abductor might try to get in touch with Allen.

Allen expressed belief that more than one person was involved in her mysterious disappearance.

"She was a reserved sort of woman," said Allen, "but if a stranger tried to force entry into her car I'm sure she would have screamed and put up a severe struggle. More than one person must be involved because I think she would have put up a real fight against one."

"Unless she was knocked out with a first blow," he added, "there should be a lot of scratches on the man or men who abducted her."

Mother of Two

Mrs. Allen, 34, the mother of two children, disappeared Thursday and was reported missing shortly before midnight. Her blue and white convertible was found on a vacant lot in downtown Kansas City with blood on the back seat.

In the trunk, police found all her clothing, her stockings and her purse. The clothing—blouse, skirt and black lace panties—all were blood-spattered, leading police to believe she may have been criminally assaulted.

Maj. Eugene Pond, chief of detectives, said the chance she will be found alive dwindles with each passing hour. She had been missing 36 hours at midnight.

"We don't know what we'll find—or what we're looking for," he said.

Her husband reported her missing at 10:30 p. m. Thursday. Police began tracing her and found she was last seen at a beauty shop where she got her hair set and her nails manicured.

Allen told police he and his wife, an attractive brunette who is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 110 pounds, had planned to dine out Thursday night. He said they had engaged a baby sitter for their sons, Bobby, 8, and Bill, 11.

They entered the station, turned on the pump switch and pumped the 60 gallons of gasoline.

The H and H Market on South Granger street was burglarized Thursday night. The rear door was entered and a meat knife and banana knife were taken.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer
The season is at hand when gardeners ought to begin thinking about fall vegetable crops, either for table use or commercial sale. In southern Illinois gardens have been unusually bountiful this season as a result of favorable growing conditions. Soil moisture has been such as to keep gardens producing more heavily and longer than ordinary. This circumstance also betters the opportunity for seed germination and faster seedling growth for late plantings.

Depth of planting and time of seeding are important considerations in planning the fall garden. Generally, because of the likelihood of drier soil at this season, seeds must be planted deeper than in spring seeding. The depth must be adequate to assure plenty of moisture for seed germination. In case of drought it may be desirable to flood the row with water before planting the seed. After covering the seed, the rows may be covered with tar paper or boards to protect from rapid drying by the hot summer sun. In such instances a careful watch must be maintained to be certain to remove the coverings by the time the seedlings are ready to break through the surface. Planting dates depend on the time required for the crop to mature. Figure this back from the average frost free date — October 20 in Southern Illinois. Several crops are suitable for fall gardens. Most varieties of green beans planted before the middle of August will be in production after the first week of October. Radishes, requiring cool fall weather, develop in about 25 days. Turnips, spinach and leaf lettuce will mature in 45 to 50 days. Peas, beets, carrots and cucumbers all may do well but require from 60 to 70 days for maturity. Some of the quicker maturing sweet corn varieties—60 to 70 day kinds—may be planted during early August and make fall roasting ears.

In clearing the garden of early crop residue in preparation for fall gardening it is good to remember that such leftovers make good compost for building up the organic matter in the soil. Put the material in a compost pile; do not burn it.

Summer pastures need watching—particularly in a season having reasonable supplies of rainfall such as this one. At this particular time there is the danger of overgrazing which may cause trouble in two ways. Too heavy grazing may damage the balance of grasses and legumes and lower the pasture quality by causing some kinds to die out or to be crowded out by less desirable grasses in the mixture. The farmer also may misjudge the amount of actual feed his livestock is getting from the pasture. A good rotation system of grazing is important in the summer pasture.

Overgrazing also will increase the danger of cattle becoming infested with internal parasites which cost money in poor flesh gains, weakened physical condition, and the expense of treatment. Increased moisture favors greater parasite development in pasture forage, particularly in low or poorly drained areas. The more closely cattle graze the summer forage the greater is the intake of parasites. Good rotating practices in grazing bespeak good management in meeting this problem.

Wool Producers To Vote On Marketing Plan

Paul B. Whitlock, chairman of the Saline County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today that all Saline county wool growers will have an opportunity to vote in a referendum to decide whether or not deductions will be made from wool payments to provide a means of financing the wool marketing development program.

In the referendum wool growers will have an opportunity to vote for or against putting into effect an agreement recently made between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council under Section 708 of the National Wool Act of 1954. The agreement provides for deductions from wool incentive and lamb and yearling sheep (pulled wool) compensating payments made to producers under the National Wool Act of 1954. These deductions will provide for advertising, and other promotional activities to enlarge and improve the market for wool and lambs.

Before the agreement can be put in effect, producers owning at least two-thirds of the sheep and lambs represented by those voting in the referendum must vote their approval. Producers who have owned sheep 6 months of age or older, for at least 30 days since January 1, 1955, will be eligible to vote. Volume of production will be based on the number of sheep 6 months of age or older owned for at least 30 days since the January 1 date. The number of sheep will be noted on the ballot.

If the referendum is approved, deduction from payments of the 1955 incentive program to be made the summer of 1956 will be one cent per pound from wool payments, and at the rate of 5 cents per one hundred pounds liveweight from lamb and yearling payments. Saline County ASC office has mailed ballots to all known wool producers in the county and Chairman Whitlock assures any producer who does not receive a ballot that he can get one by calling at the ASC County office.

District Meeting of Neighborhood Group Leaders Here Aug. 18

A Soil Conservation district meeting for neighborhood group leaders in the county will be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 18, at the Harrisburg city hall. It was announced today.

Present to talk will be Bruce Clark, Champaign, state conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service; and Bernard Fleming, Springfield, field representative, Division of Conservation, State Department of Agriculture.

The neighborhood group leaders assist the Saline County Soil Conservation district in promoting conservation practices on land.

This Week at DIXON SPRINGS

University of Illinois Experiment Station

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in Southern Illinois, prepared by the station's staff.)

Mowing Pasture
Frequent and heavy rainfall in July has made field work difficult, but has afforded a wonderful opportunity for pasture mowing. Common or bull thistle have grown very well in pasture land and mowing before seed has formed is time well spent. Mowing pastures improves their appearance and usually provides better grazing. Clipping even up growth and encourages animals to graze more uniformly. Unclipped pastures usually have numerous patches which go ungrazed all season.

Soil and Water Loss on Corn
Lee Garl and Joe Harris, chief soil and water men at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station, report that the three to four-inch rain that fell on July 20 really moved off the corn runoff test plots, carrying topsoil along. Lee and Joe have been busy this summer measuring soil and water losses on these plots. This is the first time in several years that the collecting tanks at the bottom of the plots have been filled. Water runoff on the series of plots that were mulched planted was clear. The conventional planted plots were muddy. Lee will have a complete report at the end of the season.

Ladino Clover Excellent Green Manure Crop
Paul Horman, Massac county farmer, has the prospect of a top-notch corn and bean crop on some bottomland in spite of the fact that this season has not been the best for such areas. Horman plowed under some Ladino clover this spring for some of his corn on bottomland. It is paying off in the looks of the corn and should pay off in yield. A good growth of Ladino plowed under should return as much as 50 pounds of nitrogen an acre. This is as much nitrogen as Mr. Horman would have gotten in 150 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre, and he got the organic matter in addition.

Treat All Pine Posts
Recently, a group of farmers from Jackson county, toured the Station. The post and lumber treating plant was one of the stops.

U. S. Price Supports Help Other Countries

URBANA—Some United States policies are often criticized in other countries, but one of our price support programs is quite popular in certain other parts of the world. Latin American countries have profited highly from our efforts to support cotton prices and reduce production.

That's the impression gained by H. C. M. Case, University of Illinois farm economist, on a trip this spring to several Latin American countries.

Our efforts at keeping cotton prices high have made cotton growing a profitable business in many countries, he explains. Before World War I, no Latin American country sold as much as 200,000 bales of cotton a year. In recent years total exports from Brazil and Mexico have reached a million and a half bales a year. Our exports have dropped the same amount, from 6 million to 4.5 million.

Before World War I nearly half the cotton of the world and almost three-fourths of the cotton milled in Europe was produced in the United States. Today we sell Europe about a third of her cotton and the world less than a fifth of its cotton.

"We did other cotton-growing countries a great favor by keeping our cotton prices high enough that they could make money," Case explains. Other industries have benefited, too. High cotton prices encouraged makers of rayon, nylon, and other such products.

"We can legislate prices and acreage restrictions," Case points out, "but so far we have found no way to legislate exports and consumption at our legislated prices."

Legumes Carry More Steers Per Acre Pasture

DIXON SPRINGS — Yearling steers averaging about 600 pounds in weight gained at strikingly different rates on legume pasture and grass pasture from mid-May to mid-June at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the University of Illinois.

George F. Cmarik, first assistant in beef research at the Station, reports that the legume pastures were able to carry four steers to the acre during this period, while the grass pastures could only carry about two head to the acre.

Steer gains on legumes varied from 200 to 340 pounds to the acre with an average of 265 pounds. Cmarik says. Average daily gain for six legume pastures was about one and three-fourths pounds per steer. The legume pastures were seeded mainly to alfalfa, red clover and Ladino, and the alfalfa was just about right for making a good hay crop when the steers were turned onto these fields.

On the other hand, the grass pastures were seven-year-old seedlings of various grasses. Originally these fields all contained good stands of Ladino clover, but since the dry years recently it has almost disappeared.

Gains on the grass pastures varied from 36 to 88 pounds and averaged 63 pounds per acre during the month. Average daily gain per steer for six grass pastures was about nine-tenths of a pound.

Cmarik says the grass fields that contained the highest percentages of Kentucky bluegrass, orchard grass and bromegrass produced the highest animal gains. A field of mostly wild grasses produced low gains, but they were still better than gains on a good legume pasture. These results bear out the recommendations of Cmarik as a winter or early spring pasture forage crop.

Pounds of dry matter needed to put a pound of gain on the steers also varied greatly with the main forage available, Cmarik points out. The legume pastures needed an average of 20 pounds of dry matter to put on a pound of gain compared with 34 pounds for the grass pastures.

A University of Illinois livestock specialist says that it's probably best for each hog producer to "work down" to the weaning age that will best fit his management conditions and give him the lowest total cost per pig.

Troubles With Evergreen Windbreaks

Most of the troubles with evergreen windbreaks develop about this time of year.

L. B. Culver, extension forester at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says the major sources of trouble are insects, diseases and weather.

Most common insects are bagworm and red spider. To control bagworm, Culver recommends using a lead arsenate spray mixed at the rate of 4 to 6 pounds per gallon of water. To control red spider, use a miticide, such as Aramite or Dimeite, applied according to directions.

Canker is the most common windbreak disease, according to Culver. It attacks Norway spruce and is difficult to stop. See or write to a forester for special instructions on its control.

Major damage due to weather occurs during severe droughts, such as we had last summer. A year-round mulch of ground corn cobs will help to preserve moisture for your trees.

Steer gains on legume pastures at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station ran as high as 340 pounds an acre from mid-May to mid-June this year.

Derailments Block Two Tracks at Paris

PARIS, Ill. (AP)—Repair crews today wound up the job of clearing two railroad tracks blocked by the derailment of 39 freight cars in separate accidents near here.

The first was early Friday at Ashmore in Coles county, when eight cars on a siding crashed into a westbound New York Central freight train after a brake failed. The eight cars and three coal cars from the train left the tracks, tearing up about 350 feet of track.

A trestle apparently caved in over a small stream near Hume, in Edgar county on the Nickel Plate railroad, piling up about 28 cars. No injuries were reported from either accident.

The first dairy cattle brought to continental United States arrived in the Plymouth colony in 1624.

Miss Patricia Louise Carpenter Weds Larry Kenneth Adams of Mattoon

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kenneth Adams

Sunday, July 31, the altar of the First Baptist church, beautifully decorated with white gladioli, pinks, and carnations, was the scene of a most impressive wedding ceremony uniting Miss Patricia Louise Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carpenter, Route 1, Harrisburg, and Larry Kenneth Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Adams, Mattoon.

The young couple met while both were students at the Illinois School for the Deaf at Jacksonville. Performing the ceremony was Rev. Leonard Whitlock, cousin of the bride and pastor of the First Baptist church of Mt. Vernon. He was assisted by Ray Travelstead, Carbondale, who interpreted the ceremony for the benefit of the deaf couple.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white combination gown, fitted princess style, and worn with a fitted lace bolero that buttoned up the front with covered buttons and three quarter length sleeves. Her finger-ring veil was secured to a white halo cap and was borrowed from her cousin, Mrs. Janet Wright of Belleville. She carried a white lace-covered Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, to which was fastened three white fusi mums and sat in streamers.

The maid of honor, sister of the bride, wore a strapless ballerina length junior bridesmaid dress which was a combination of satin and net. The bodice and torso of satin was of a scroll design fastened to a full net skirt and worn over a matching slip of net. Her matching hat, sprinkled with rhinestones, mitt and satin shawl served to complement her gown and made her a vision of loveliness in peacock blue. She carried a peacock blue lace covered Bible topped with a single yellow mum.

Flower girl and small cousin of the bride was Mardena Kay Carpenter, wearing a dusty rose wide skirted tulle and net dress designed with a built up neckline and puffed sleeves worn over a matching satin slip with hoops. A satin bow at the waist and white lace flounce sprinkled with seed pearls at the hem added a charming touch to the dress which was worn with matching white lace mitts and white baby doll ankle strap slippers. She also wore a head band of white flowers and pearls, a gift of the bride, and she carried a white straw basket fastened with white satin bridal bows, from which she scattered flower petals in the path of the bride.

The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Darrell Adams of Mattoon, and serving as ushers were Thomas D. Carpenter and George E. Vandevord, also cousins of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue lace over taffeta dress with matching accessories. At the shoulder of her dress she wore a corsage of pink delight roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose for the wedding an aqua blue crepe worn with white accessories and her flowers were also pink delight roses.

Before the ceremony Miss Shirley Karnes sang "Always" and "Through the Years" and at the closing of the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied on the organ by Miss Frances Cummins. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Madge Daugherty, played the wedding march as the bride entered on the arm of her father.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the educational building of the church. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and decorated with pinks and emerald in the form of wedding rings.

Hostesses at the reception were members of the Fidelis Sunday school class and two of the bride's aunts, Mrs. Bruno DeGiacinto and Mrs. Victor Lambert, East St. Louis.

Following the reception the newlyweds left for a honeymoon at Kentucky lake after which they will return to their apartment in Mattoon where the bridegroom is

10 U. S. Soldiers Die in Korea In Truck Crash

SEOUL (AP)—Ten holiday-bound American soldiers died today when an Army truck plunged over a bridge, burst into flames and rolled over, pinning many of the GIs beneath its massive weight.

Eight others were injured seriously. The men were en route to an airfield in a U. S. 24th Division truck for a flight to Japan and a holiday of rest and recreation leave.

Eight of the soldiers were killed outright. Another died en route to the 121st Army Evacuation Hospital and the other died after reaching the huge medical center.

The Army said some of the other injured men were in such serious condition from injuries suffered when the truck crashed and burst into flames that they, too, may die.

Many of the victims were pinned beneath the flaming truck. The GIs were on their way to a few days of pleasure in Japanese cities and resorts away from the dreary monotony of soldiering in Korea.

The army said the group of happy soldiers were en route to Kimpo to board a military plane for leaves in Japan. The accident happened on a narrow bridge over which traffic is regulated to move in one direction.

The spokesman said Army investigators were studying the cause of the accident.

Names of the victims were withheld.

Conciliator Meets With Officials in Metropolis Dispute

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—A second meeting of plant and union officials with a state labor conciliator was scheduled here today in negotiations to end a four-day strike at the city power plant.

State conciliator Joseph Hodges huddled with officials of the International Union of Operating Engineers and the Light and Power Committee of the City Council shortly after his arrival Friday.

No report on the meeting was issued, and a second meeting was scheduled for today.

Plant officials said skeleton crews still were maintaining service and that they had enough coal to keep the plant running for about a week.

The officials said railroads have not been asked to cross picket lines at the plant to deliver new coal supplies.

The plant employees went on strike after the City Council refused to recognize the engineers' union as their bargaining agent.

Army Captain Asks New Trial in Death War Bride

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The Army announced the discharge of Capt. Marcus Bluth almost the same time he asked for a new trial in the death of a beautiful Polish war bride.

Bluth, of Joliet, Ill., and former post judge advocate of the Army's secret Redstone Arsenal here, asked Friday for a new trial on grounds that his manslaughter conviction was based on "insufficient evidence."

Bluth was convicted last May 27 in the death of Mrs. Helen Teresa Meighen, estranged wife of Capt. Patrick Meighen, Waynesburg, Pa. The striking Warsaw, Poland, native was found dead on the floor of her apartment last December after a weekend of drinking with Bluth during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Death was attributed to a blow on the head, and Bluth was convicted of second degree manslaughter. A jury fixed his sentence at 12 months in jail and a fine of $400.

Harriman Says Position for 1956, '$64,000 Question'

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman's position as a possible contender for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination became, in his own words, "$64,000 question" today.

He eliminated himself from con- sideration for the second spot on the national Democratic ticket when asked if he would accept the vice presidential nomination if he didn't get the presidential bid.

"I don't think there is any sense in trying to answer that question," Harriman said. "I said in 1952 that I was not interested in that office."

Name Winners in Swine, Sheep Departments at County Fair

Winners in the Swine and Sheep events at the Saline County Agricultural fair were announced today by fair officials.

In the Swine department, there were four premiums in ten classes each of Berkshire, Chester White or OJC, Duroc Jersey, Black Poland and China and Spotted Poland China breeds.

In the Berkshire competition, either E. H. Chamness or Nellie Chamness of Marion Route 5 won all the premiums in every class, which were: boar two years or over; boar one to two years; boar six months to one year; sow two years or over; sow one to two years; sow six months to one year; sow pig under six months; boar and three sows; and produce of dam.

And the competition was confined to two persons, Glen Ray Dees and Cecil Dorris, both of West Frankfort, in the Chester White or OJC classes. Each man received five first places in the ten classes and they picked up all the other premiums, with prizes given for the first four places.

In the Duroc Jersey classes, all the premium money went to Robert L. Walters of Brownfield and W. B. Dorris of Johnston City. Like in the Chester White and Duroc classes, each man received five first place premiums in the ten classes, with the remaining premiums for second, third and fourth places also split up pretty well between them.

Bobby Wright of Golconda and E. H. Chamness took all the premium money in the ten classes for Hampshire swine, with each taking five first places and capturing all the second, third and fourth.

Robert L. Walters and Lou K. Walters, both of Brownfield, nearly had the Black Poland China premiums to themselves, but William Endsley of Harrisburg took four third places in the ten classes.

There were three exhibitors who took just about all the honors in the ten Spotted Poland China events. They were Dr. J. L. Nelson of Fairfield, who had four first places, Glen Ray Dees, who had three first places, and E. H. Chamness, who had one first place and a number of other places. Harold Murphy of Harrisburg Route 4 captured first place with his sow pig under six months old.

Clyde F. Simms of Albion took first and second places in all eight classes of the Marino-Ramboillet-Corriedale breeds, with Bobby Wright of Golconda finishing third and fourth in all the classes.

The sheep classes for all breeds were: Ram one to two years; ram under one year; ewe two years or over, ewe one to two years; ewe under one year; flock; pair of rams; pair of ewes.

In the eight classes of the Cotes-wold-Leicester-Lincoln sheep, the Heggemeier sheep farm of Nashville, Ill., took first and second in five classes, first and fourth in two classes, and second and third in one.

Jimmy Dunston of West Frankfort had one first and took all the remaining prize money not won by Heggemeier.

In the Southdown-Cheviot-Suffolk sheep division, Heggemeier won all eight firsts and divided the second, third and fourth place premiums with Clyde F. Simms.

But Simms took all eight classes of the Oxford division with Heggemeier taking all the second, thirds and fourths.

Heggemeier won all the Hampshire classes and with Simms took all the remaining premiums.

And in the Shropshire classes Simms won all the eight classes and with Heggemeier won all the second and third place money. There were no fourth place sheep in the Shropshire classes.

Red China Proposes Joint Pledge to Refrain from Force

TOKYO (UP)—Communist China today rejected any thought of a cease fire with the Nationalists but suggested the United States and Peiping governments get together and discuss a joint pledge to refrain from using force.

The broadcast was in answer to a press conference statement Tuesday by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that the path toward broad negotiations would be opened if the Peiping regime would renounce the use of military force.

Watch for List of Autos Advertised During Past 40 Years

What Register reader has the oldest automobile?

In next Tuesday's Register more than 100 makes of automobiles which have been advertised in the past 40 years will be listed. When you read the list you will be amazed at how many you didn't recall offhand.

Makes of used cars still in demand will be started, according to lists of used car advertisers in Register classifieds. Watch for this list and see how the number of makes of automobiles has changed and narrowed down to less than 20.

"I don't know how you ever get along in business, George—there's our old car that you turned in for $150!"

Australian Peter Thomson Takes Two Stroke Lead In 'All American' Tourney

CHICAGO (UP)—Peter Thomson, a 25-year-old Australian, was on the road toward a $3,420 payoff in American money today with a hot putter that gave him a two stroke bulge on the field midway through Tam O'Shanter's $25,000 "All American" golf tournament.

Thomson slashed out a seven under par 65 in the second round Friday, going over par on only two holes and missing a chance at the course record of 63 on the 17th hole, to post a 36 hole total of 136.

That compared to 138 for PGA champion Doug Ford, Yonkers, N. Y., and Al Mengert, a 26-year-old assistant club pro from Mamaroneck, N. Y., who had a share of the lead wrapped up, each with a pair of 69's, until Thomson came home late in the day.

Thomson three putted the seventh hole for a bogie five. But by that time he had dropped putts of 2 feet, eight feet and 15 feet.

On the back nine he was on the green in two and canned his second putt for a birdie on the 10th. On the 14th he sank a 10 footer for another bird and on the 15th his eagle putt stopped only 18 inches away as he got another birdie.

Then came his trouble. His tee shot on the 17th hooked into trees and his recovery ended in a trap. He exploded 10 feet from the pin, but his putt missed by inches. Had he broken the course record, set by Lloyd Mangrum in 1948, he would have received $10,000 cash for the feat.

The course played easier on the second round. On the first day 43 of the field of 149 matched par of 72 or bettered it, while Friday of 135 players, 59 fired 72 or less.

The field for the final 36 holes was cut to 80, who shot 147 and under in the first two rounds.

Eliminated by this break were such stars as Pete Cooper at 148, and Chandler Harper, Johnny Palmer, and National Open champion Jack Fleck at 149.

Four players were tied at 139, three strokes off the pace: Mike Fetchick, Lake Mahopac, N. Y.; Gardner Dickinson Jr., Panama

City, Fla.; Wally Ulrich, Rochester, Minn., and Fred Hawkins, Chicago.

Ulrich, who shared the first day lead with Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., and Ted Kroll, Utica, N. Y., with 68's remained in contention with a 71 while the other two fell behind with 75 each.

Patty Berg, veteran woman pro from Chicago, knocked out a five under par 71 for a total of 146 and a seven stroke edge on three competitors, Betty Jameson, Mary Lena Faulk, and Louise Suggs in the chase for the $1,000 top purse for women pros.

Wiffi Smith, 18, St. Clair, Mich., shot a 78, but held the lead among the women amateurs with a 152 total, five strokes ahead of Ruth Jessen, Seattle, Wash., while Doug Sanders, Cedartown, Ga., shot a 70 to remain in front in the men's amateur with 139 compared to 143 for Phillip Scrutton of England.

Following is the Kiwanis baseball league schedule for Aug. 8-12, the final week of play. The next week playoff and all-star games will be played.

Monday
3 p. m.—Dairy Brand vs. Dodgers, Taylor Field; Nick's Cafe vs. Sugar Creek, town park.

5 p. m.—DN vs. Sahara Tigers, Taylor Field; Jukes vs. VFW, town park.

KNOW HIM?

Juvenile delinquency was just a term until they sent the boy down the street to what they politely termed a "training school." Then it became real, because this boy wasn't just a statistic but a kid who had played with your kids. Why, only last Sunday you had gone fishing with his father.

So now . . . you wondered why. The boy came from a good home—or did he? There was money enough, luxury enough, but it's true that his parents sometimes left him pretty much to his own devices. There were his mother's clubs and his father's business, and they led an active social life.

You asked yourself why . . . and in your heart you knew the answer. It lay in those gaps that had been left in his upbringing—great chinks, that should have been filled with faith, spiritual guidance, and solid enduring values. Thinking about it, you made up your mind to start taking your own kids to church on Sundays without fail—no matter how good the weather was for fishing.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Exiles in Babylon'

(Psalm 137:1-6; Jeremiah 29:1-14, Daniel 3)

GOLDEN TEXT: "He will deliver us out of thy hand, O king. But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy Gods, nor worship the golden image thou hast set up." (Daniel 3:17-18)

INTRODUCTION: — Have you ever been homesick? Have you ever had the gnawing in the pit of your stomach, when your heart was broken, all because you wanted to be home with the one you loved? Then you have some little idea as to how the Children of Judah felt while in captivity. They could not go back to their homes, their Temple they loved so much, nor to the city so dear to their hearts.

Read the 137th Psalm. There is a sob of deep lament running through it. The writer was evidently a Levite in captivity. His mind goes back to the old days when he was at home on his own land. He sees again the old familiar scenes. His heart is heavy because of the tragedy that has befallen him. Indeed, all the captives in Babylon were a miserable lot of people.

JEREMIAH WRITES TO CAPTIVES IN BABYLON (Jeremiah 29:1-14)

Jeremiah knew that God had permitted the people to be sent into captivity because of their sins. Now that they are in captivity, Jeremiah knows that they might as well make the best of it. Rebellion would only make matters worse. He knew further that if they settled down and made friends that it would not be long before they would be gaining wealth in this strange land.

Jeremiah also warned them against worshipping false Gods. It seems that the people of Israel had to be constantly warned about this temptation.

Here, also, is repeated that prophecy that within seventy years the people would be returning to the great city of Jerusalem. It had been prophesied hundreds of years before that they would be scattered and then returned to the Promised Land.

"And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all thine heart." Friends, that was true for Judah. It is true for you today. Seek for God with all your heart, and you are sure to find Him.

III THREE HEBREW CHILDREN ON TRIAL (Daniel 3)

Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego were the three young Hebrews whom King Nebuchadnezzar tried to force to worship his false god and his graven image. He told them that if they refused that they would be cast into a fiery furnace. He asked what god would be able to deliver them from his hands.

The answer given by these three young men is classic: "O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer thee in this matter. If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning furnace, and He will deliver us out of thy hand, O king. But, if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship thy golden image which thou hast set up."

These young men absolutely refused to bow down and worship and thus compromise their convictions. They were cast into the fiery furnace. It had been heated seven times hotter than normal. When the king looked into the furnace, he exclaimed that he saw "not three, but four and one was like unto the Son of God." They were not alone.

Not a hair of their bodies was singed. There was not even the smell of smoke on their garments. All that was burned was the bands with which they had been bound. The king made a decree that anyone who spoke against the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego would be put to death.

CONCLUSION — The exiles in Babylon were a downcast people, especially at first. They were sick for home. God permitted their suffering because they had persisted in sin. The three Hebrew children, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego proved to be faithful servants of God. Their influence counted for Him. There may come times of sorrow and testing for us. Let us never compromise our convictions. Let us always remain true to God.
